

NOW DIFFER AS TO BELIEF OF CALVIN

Interesting Discussion in General Assembly as to His Belief About Salvation of Infants.

WILL STICK TO THEME

Motion to Eliminate It Is Finally Voted Down—Report on Systematic Beneficence.

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 25.—At to-day's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly a motion was made that a committee be appointed to express sympathy with the workers for prohibition in this State to-morrow. Objection was raised to such an action, and a motion was made that the assembly shall not meet until to-morrow evening, so that members of the assembly may join in the prohibition movement. This was also objected to, and the matter was finally disposed of by reaffirming the resolution adopted by the assembly of 1886 upon this subject. This declared the "liquor evil" and recommended to all our people the use of all legitimate means for its banishment from the land.

The complaint of Young against the Synod of Kentucky for making the board of trustees of Central University, at Danville, Ky., self-perpetuating, was heard this afternoon. There was promise of a battle royal in the argument between Colonel Bennett W. Young, of Louisville, Ky., representing the complainants, and Colonel Thomas Bullitt, of Louisville, representing the Synod.

Dr. Moore Preaches. At 11 o'clock the moderator, Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore, of Richmond, Va., preached a strong sermon from the text, "It is expedient for you that I go away."

Without opposition, Savannah, Ga., was chosen as the place of meeting of the 1909 assembly. A telegram of greetings was received from Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of the Moravian Church.

Infant Salvation. By consent, the complaint of W. A. Gilland and others against the Synod of Texas was withdrawn. A lively discussion was precipitated in the assembly before noon recess by a motion made by Professor C. Alphonso Smith, of University of North Carolina, that the program for Calvin Day at the next assembly be considered and that the subject, "Calvin and Infant Salvation," be eliminated therefrom. Professor Smith argued that it was hurting the church to keep up discussion as to infant salvation and infant damnation. It is a dead issue. He thought the church had reached the point where it did not care particularly what John Calvin believed upon the subject. Professor Smith said that for a long time he did not think that John Calvin believed in infant damnation, but as a result of research he is convinced that Calvin did believe this doctrine. "The discussion is doing harm," said Professor Smith; "we are here to consider live issues."

May Vindicate Calvin. Rev. Dr. R. F. Campbell, said the subject was not a dead issue, but one of the liveliest the church had to face, and it might as well face it now as at any other time. He believed the memory of Calvin should be vindicated. At the time when the whole church of the world believed that infants who had not been baptized would be lost, Calvin stood up and declared that baptism of infants was not necessary to their salvation. "Calvin has been slandered," said the church has been slandered," said

How to Get Well for 50 cents—in a Month

This is the trouble with nine people in ten who don't feel well: The liver is torpid because of abuse. Because of wrong food and too little exercise. The bowels have grown inactive. The waste of the system loads the blood with impurities. Then one takes harsh physic—salts and pills—in trying to correct the wrong. Thus the stomach and bowels become inflamed. The whole digestive system is upset.

All these results end quickly by the use of Cascarets. One candy tablet, once or twice a day. In a month, or less, one knows what it is to be well.

Cascarets aid digestion. Harsh physic destroys it.

Cascarets gently stimulate the liver. Cathartics whip it to action. Cascarets heal the bowels. Pills, salts and castor oil merely irritate. If you tramped the woods for a month, ate coarse food, fruit and green vegetables, the result would be the same as a month with Cascarets. But most people can't do that. For them, Cascarets bring the same results, just as naturally, just as effectively.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

The vest-pocket box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12,000,000 boxes sold annually.

the speaker. He hoped the topic would not be omitted.

Rev. Dr. A. A. Little, of Alabama, opposed striking out the topic. He said if it was stricken out, the world would think that Calvin and the church believed in infant damnation, which was not true. "Calvin day" at the next assembly would be a splendid opportunity to settle the question.

The Bible Not Calvin. The Rev. E. R. Robertson, of Norfolk, Va., said it was not so much a question of setting Calvin right as it was of setting the church right. "We do not believe it just because Calvin said it; he is not our Bible," said the speaker. Calvin was a great man, but he was a man, after all. Get at what the Bible teaches," he said. Mr. Robertson favored the motion to strike out.

The Rev. S. L. Wilson, of South Carolina, was opposed to striking out. He said it was a matter which should be made clear. Calvin on infant salvation was about as many people know about the Presbyterian Church, and that the church is in the midst of a crisis. Calvin was a man, after all. Get at what the Bible teaches," he said. Mr. Robertson favored the motion to strike out.

W. A. Clark, of Columbia, S. C., agreed with Professor Smith. "Great men," he said, "including Van Dyke, believe that Calvin construed the Scriptures to teach infant damnation, and now it is said by a layman (Professor Smith), who stands among the foremost of our literary men, that after research, he has reached the same conclusion. It is a dangerous subject to discuss in view of the position taken by the church. It is too small a thing to deal with in celebrating the birthday of John Calvin. In the medieval days, John Calvin, in the medieval days, reached his conclusions. We should believe in the great principles John Calvin laid down and can afford to omit minor issues. The question may give trouble."

Rev. A. D. Mason, of Memphis, was in favor of settling the question at once without waiting until the meeting of the next assembly. "Establish the fact that the Presbyterian Church does not believe in infant damnation," he declared. "To make this question a topic in the celebration might create doubt upon this point."

A vote was taken upon Professor Smith's motion, and it was lost by a vote of 35 to 55.

Systematic Beneficence. The principal business transacted by the assembly at the afternoon session was the consideration and adoption of the report of systematic beneficence, which was presented on behalf of the committee by Dr. T. M. Hunter, of Louisiana. The report gave the following figures: For foreign missions, 1,892 churches give $323,879; for assembly's home missions, 1,792 churches give $11,134; for local home missions, 2,062 churches give $6,253; for ministerial relief and endowment, 1,667 churches give $97,179; for education, 1,671 churches give $131,569; for publication, 1,825 churches give $18,032; for Bible cause, 888 churches give $7,336—Total, $823,734. For the assembly's home and school the assembly gave $1,578,827; for the ministerial education, $24,930. From the invested funds for the endowment for ministerial relief the committee received $8,480.

Men for Tithes System. The report recommended that:

"Whereas, the executive committee of our benevolent causes call upon the church for more than $1,500,000 for the prosecution of their work; and whereas, it is our duty to give this amount; and whereas, the title is the Lord's ordained plan for the support and extension of the gospel:

"We recommend that the assembly request its ministers to preach upon this subject at an early date, and that church sessions endeavor to introduce this plan in their churches."

Some opposition was shown to the title plan, upon the ground that the amount of donations should not be limited.

Bennett Young Case. The case of Bennett H. Young against the Synod of Kentucky, in the matter of the Central University, at Danville, Ky., under the joint control of the Northern and Southern Presbyterian Churches, came up as a special order. The record of the case was read, and the hearing will be proceeded with to-morrow, one hour and a quarter each being assigned for argument to opposing counsel—Colonel Bennett H. Young, for complainants, and Colonel Thomas H. Bullitt, for the synod, both of Louisville.

To-night a popular meeting was held in the interest of foreign missions. The principal speakers were the Rev. Calvin H. Caldwell, missionary to China, and the Rev. Moite Martin, missionary to Africa.

THAW INSANE YET; REMAIN IN ASYLUM

The indictment that he was insane when he killed Stanford White, and if that defense was successful and the jury acquitted him of the charge against him on that ground, it became the duty of the court, if it deemed him discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety, to order him to be committed to the State Lunatic asylum until such time as he should be legally

NIGHT RIDERS CAUGHT AND PICTURES TAKEN

This is said to be the only authentic picture of night riders ever made. Macon Chambliss is the one to the right, and the one to the left is William Stewart, whom Chambliss implicates in his confession.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEXINGTON, KY., May 25.—Brigadier-General Roger D. Williams, of this city, who is in command of the State troops on guard in the various sections of the State infested by night riders, has returned to this city, bringing with him the first authentic photographs of real, bona fide night riders yet procured, and which are published here. Having been brought there from Macon Chambliss, who has confessed to his participation in the raids and the whipping of several men, and William Stewart, whom Chambliss implicates. Both men are now in jail at Caliz, Trigg county, for safekeeping, having been brought there from Murray, Callaway county, because it was feared that friends would attempt their release.

Calloway and Trigg counties are in the dark Burley tobacco belt, and it is there that most of the night rider work has occurred. Hopkinsville, Princeton, Golden Pond and other places which have been greatly damaged by fires kindled by night riders, are in that district, as is La Centre, where this week a band of night riders was seen to kneel in prayer, and then sing, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," while the fire, lighted by their hands, destroyed the barn.

Chambliss and Stewart were among twenty-nine other men arrested in Calloway county on the charge of being implicated in the raids. He was hurried to the camp of the troops, where General Williams took these photographs. They are holding the horses that they rode during the raids, and had just returned from their last raid when caught. Both are well-known young farmers. Shortly after Chambliss was arrested, he made a confession, which for a recital of sheer brutality, is unrivaled save in the confession of Mose Felner, Curt Jett, Asbury Spicer and other men who assisted in the Breathitt county assassinations.

would appoint Mrs. Harry K. Thaw trustee or committee of his estate," continued Mr. Semple, "but if she or any one else is appointed they will find that the executors and trustees under the will of William Thaw have absolute control of all his interest in his share of the estate. Certainly no order of court appointing a committee or trustee of his estate in the event he is finally declared insane could avoid or change the terms of the will of his father. That will stand no matter what order any court might make."

FIGHT ON LIQUOR BE SETTLED TO-DAY

Spoke. Among the number were W. H. Sprunt, of the big cotton firm of Alexander Sprunt & Son, and Traffic Passenger Agent W. J. Craig, of the Atlantic Coast Line. The latter declared that to-day the railroad wants only men who are sober.

To-morrow will witness strenuous work at the polls and the culmination of much bitterness.

VERY CLOSE; IN DOUBT

Vote Evenly Divided, and Either Side May Win.

DURHAM, N. C., May 25.—Added to the efforts of the prohibitionists, who have conducted a militant campaign in Durham, the Temperance League, a temporary organization, consisting of women and children from the various churches and Sunday schools, paraded the streets of the town to-day, over 1,000 strong, each one bearing a white banner and singing songs that proclaimed prohibition. The raging nature of the fight in this city surpasses any other town in the State, derived from the fact that the prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists are so evenly divided. It is a fight to the finish in Durham county, and the vote cannot be determined for either side until the last of the vote of the election two railroads were held. Each faction participated, and almost every voting man in the city attended these speakings. From all indications, the day in Durham will not pass off as peacefully as many other elections in the past.

FINAL RALLY IN CHARLOTTE

Two Bands and a Number of Speakers.

WOMEN AT POLLS TO-DAY. CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 25.—The local prohibition campaign was brought to a whirlwind finish to-night, with a rally in the Auditorium by the prohibition agitators. Two bands were in evidence and brief speeches were made by a dozen lawyers. The prohibitionists have given out that the women and children will be used around the polls to-morrow from sunrise to sunset to influence voters.

The election promises to be quiet.

and a light vote will be polled, with the prospects of a small majority for the prohibition bill. The dragging of women and children into the election is freely censured. Conservative Democrats are predicting a serious split in the party as the outgrowth of the liquor agitation.

LITTLE INTEREST IN GUILFORD

Vote to Be Small, But Prohibitionists Expect Good Majority.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GREENSBORO, N. C., May 25.—The campaign for State prohibition which closed to-night has been uneventful in Guilford county, which has been dry for three years. There has been no openly organized opposition by anti nor a public speech made. Many prohibition speeches have been made in all parts of the county, but those in the city had a surprisingly small attendance. The churches have planned for an immense parade of children during the election to-morrow, and prayers for the success of prohibition will be said in churches during the day.

John C. Kennel, manager of the prohibition campaign, says to-night that the county will give 1,000 prohibition majority, though he admits the situation is such that he cannot estimate the effect of apathy on his side, compared to the possible activity of the anti.

Factories Will Close.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] HIGH POINT, N. C., May 25.—The scores of factories and other business places closed down for to-morrow, in order to give the employees chance to work for prohibition, which will carry by a large majority here.

Will Go Dry.

KINSTON, N. C., May 25.—From present indications, Lenoir county will go prohibition by a large majority.

RICIDULES THE IDEA

No Reason to Expect Appointment of Thaw's Wife to Committee.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 25.—Concerning a report that Mrs. Harry K. Thaw will abandon the proceedings to annul her marriage and attempt, instead, to be appointed trustee or committee of her husband's estate, Frank Semple, agent and attorney, in fact, for the Thaw estate, said to-day:

"It will take a very fine rake for any committee which may be appointed to Harry K. Thaw to find any estate in which he has an interest not provided for by the terms of his father's will. I can hardly imagine that the court
